THE OPENING OF ALLEYS

Suggested Amendments to the Bill to Regulate the Same.

Provision as to Extending, Widening or Straightening Thoroughfares-Pay of Jurors. In the matter of Senate bill 128, "To 1892, entitled 'An act to provide for the opening of alleys in the District of Columbia," " the District Commissioners will, it is understood, recommend that the proposed measure be amended in certain particulars, and, as amended, be enacted. The Commissioners will also recommend certain changes in the act of 1892.

amend section 5 of an act approved July 22,

The object of Senate bill 128 is to provide for the payment of the jurors summoned under the provisions of the act, to condemn the land for the alleys and assess benefits, at the rate of $5 per diem for each juror when actually employed, instead of $60 for all of the jurors for their entire service, as now provided by law. The Commissioners, it is provided by law. The Commissioners, it is stated, believe such a change in the existing law should be made.

In connection with the same subject the Commissioners state that in carrying into effect the provisions of the act of 1892, for the opening of alleys it has been found that the object of the law could be better attained if it were amended, and it is said that they will suggest the following amendment:

"Insert after the word 'straightened,' in line 12, section 1, of the act, U. S. Stats, at Large, vol. 27, chap. 230, the words 'or when said Commissioners deem that such opening, extending, widening or straightening of an alley is necessary in order to provide proper drainage facilities for the square in which said alley is sought to be opened, extended, widened or straightened, or when said Commissioners shall certify that such extending, widening or straightening of an alley is necessary in order to properly accommodate vehicle traffic in such square."

Addition to Section 1.

Addition to Section 1.

It is also understood the Commissioners will recommend the following amendment to the act of 1892:

"Add at the end of said section 1 the folowing: 'And provided further, that the Commissioners of the District of Columbia be, and they are hereby, authorized, whenever in their judgment the same may be necessary or expedient, to close any alley or part of alley, the width of which is less than ten feet. That if the fee title to the land contained in the alley or part of alley so to be closed is in the United States, the so to be closed is in the United States, the said Commissioners are hereby authorized to dispose of said land by sale to the owners of the lots or parts of lots contiguous thereto, at a price to be agreed upon between the said Commissioners and said owners, which price shall not be less than the current market price of the ground in the contiguous lots. That if the fee title to the land in the alley or part of alley so to be closed is not in the United States the title to said land shall revert to the person or persons who dedicated the same for alley purposes, or his or their heirs or asey purposes, or his or their heirs or as

Omission and Substitution.

The Commissioners will also, it is stated, act of 1892, after the word "apportioned." e stricken out, and that the following b added after said word: "It shall be the duty of said Commissioners, or some one designated by them, to levy an assessment upon each lot or part of a lot of land in accordance with such apportionment, the same to be collected as other special assessments upon real estate are collected, and said assessment shall bear interest at and said assessment shall bear interest at the rate of ten per centum per annum until paid."

These changes in the existing law, if made, the Commissioners believe, will enable them to open, widen and extend alleys whenever they deem it necessary in order to properly drain a square, or to accommodate traffic in alleys. It will also allow them, in their opinion, to close narrow alleys which are of no practical use, either to the District or to abutting property, and add the area of said alleys to the tax books. The last amendment suggested by them will, they also believe, more definitely indicate the officer who is to make the levy and assessments provided in the act.

The amendment of the Senate bill, 128, is also incorporated in the above suggested amendments to the original act. They will, it is said, earnestly recommend that the present law be amended as above indicated, and that Senate bill 128 be amended as above suggested by them.

Doubt Over Identity of Man Who Rob bed Hotel Guests.

The police department is in a quandary robbed the rooms of Representative Robertson and others at Willard's Hotel, the 8th of this month. Soon after the robberies were committeed a picture of "Red Heyl" was recognized as the likeness of the ma who registered at Willard's as C. L. Douglass of Tombstone, Ariz., and for whom th police were looking. Later, as published in The Star, Mr. W. P. Barnhart, clerk at Willard's Hotel, went to Pittsburg with Detective Helan and identified "Nick" Moran, alias Campbell, as C. L. Douglass. A writ of habeas corpus, made returnable this afternoon, was issued by a judge at Pittsburg, and Moran will in all probability be released.

Pitisburg, and Moran will in air probability be released.

Since the identification the police department has received information that Moran could not possibly have been in this city the day the Willard Hotel robberies were committed. This information was received from the Cincinnati authorities. Moran was arrested there the 6th of the month and was held in custody two days. On the morning of the 8th of the month he paid a fine and was discharged from custody. This incident was closed about 11 o'clock in the day.

tody. This incident was closed about 11 o'clock in the day.

In view of these facts and of what has transpired the local police think the recovery of some of the stolen property will be necessary to get a conviction in the event of the capture of the thief who actually committed the robberles at the hotel.

A CONSTABLE CENSURED.

letion of Court in General Term Settling a Controversy.

The Court in General Term this morning ensured Constable W. H. H. Gould for conduct unbecoming an officer of the law ssued by Samuel R. Church, justice of the eace, and placed in his hands for execuion. Justice Church alleged that in Octoer last he placed in Gould's hands a writ of replevin authorizing him to take posses sion of a horse claimed by the plaintiff in the suit of Landon against Salter. This process, the justice said, Gould executed, delivering the animal to Landon.

A day or two later it was found the bond given for the replevin of the horse was insufficient, and Landon was notified, and given three days in which to file an adequate bond. Not doing so, Justice Church issued another writ authorizing Gould to again take possession of the horse and return him to Salter. This writ, the justice alleged, Gould refused to execute.

In reply the constable claimed that Justice Church had no authority to issue the second writ, and declared that if he executed it his bondsmen would have been liable for any damage the plaintiff Landon might have sustained. The constable also claimed that the first writ was properly issued and executed, because the bond authorizing it was proper and had been accepted as sufficient.

Chief Justice Bingham and Justices Cole, Clabaugh and Barnard considered the case.

Mr. T. E. Clark of 1100 Florida avenue northeast has addressed to the Commis ioners of the District a reply to a comnunication received from them respecting he alleged private examinations of pupils of the public schools by medical inspectors Mr. Clark expresses surprise that the board of trustees, "composed of prominent and ntelligent citizens, should content themselves with ignoring the more importan 'eatures" of a previous letter of his, and should "merely direct the superintendent to inform you" (the Commissioners) "as to has been published in The Star. Continuing, Mr. Clark says, in part: "It is of slight importance whether the examination was compulsory or not. I submit, however, that it was practically so, because the children are taught al home and at school to obey their teachers, and an order to the teachers to make it was compulsory to all intents and pur-

"The secret feature that the superintendent speaks of is not that which I called your attention to. He talks of the secrecy as to the examination of individual children, while I referred to keeping the fact of the examination and the list of questions from the public. In short, the answer of the trustees through the superintendent does not meet the issue. It has the appearance of artful dodging. Facts in my possession which I can sustain by indisputable testimony. Will prove exactly the opposite to the more important points of the superintendent's statement.

"I object on the ground that the authority of parents over their children is supreme; that they are not sent to school to be physically examined, and that it is a violation of inalienable personal rights to so examine them without obtaining parents' consent; that American children are not to be made a convenience of by associations or individuals to obtain statistics, or what not, while attending the public schools; that public schools were not instithat there should be no such secrecy in this country. It is repulsive to the spirit of our institutions and laws, and especially so when our children are concerned.

"I, therefore, call upon you as the supreme authority to publish the list of questions and the instructions to teachers, both printed, I understand. Dr. Chappell, chairman of the committee of the Medical Association to make examinations in the schools, has stated that it is proposed to have three such, annually. I ask if this
